Bowsher Memorial Trophy Presented To Dave Smith

Dave Smith, Pickaway Township High School's outstanding basketball player during the 1956-57 season, was given formal recognition for his cage ability last night when he was officially awarded The Herald's Bob Bowsher Memorial Trophy.

Presentation was made during Pickaway's annual athletic banquet, held in the school gymnasium.

The stellar Pirate cage receiver, the coveted trophy following a career in dinner, prepared by ladies of the community.

Awarded annually, the trophy is presented by The Circleville Herald to the county high school cager who, in the opinion of the county's 11 coaches, is the outstanding player of the year.

unanimous selection on this year's all-county team. He gained additional recognition by ending the season as the county's leading scorer, swishing the nets at a fast pace for 416 points in 21 games.

In his usual shy manner, he accepted the award with a broad grin by sincerely saying, "I am grateful to my coach, teammates, the county coaches who elected me, and The Herald for making this trophy possible."

Following the presentation, guest speaker Gene Fekete, former All-American football player at Ohio State University and now a backfield coach at OSU, told his

Lausche Seen Adjusted Now To New Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—There are indications that Frank J. Lausche is getting adjusted to his new role as junior U. S. senator from Ohio.

When Lausche first arrived here he startled newsmen by saying: "I would rather be governor of Ohio than a senator of the United States."

Lausche defeated Republican George Bender last November in the U. S. Senate race after serving five terms as Ohio's chief executive.

According to Ray White, the senator's administrative aide, there is a "new enthusiasm" about Lausche.

"He (Lausche) was quite impatient at first, even frustrated," White said. "At the beginning he didn't talk much. Now he talks all the time about his job."

"He takes a great personal interest in the bills, and is always asking questions about them in committee hearings."

There have been a few rough moments for Lausche.

For one thing, his frequent opponent and fellow Ohio Democrat, Rep. Wayne Hays, has said flatly that Lausche's opposition to spending $5 million on the Pan American games were merely a play for publicity. But Lausche's stand has been backed by other Ohio congressmen as well as by the State Department.

13 White Youths Named In Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—A Cook County grand jury has returned murder and conspiracy true bills against 13 white youths in the hammer slaying of a teen-age Negro on a local street corner.

The jury Friday questioned five witnesses about the fatal bludgeoning of Alvin Palmer, 17, Monday night as he waited for a bus.

One of the witnesses, Wilmore Johnson, 41, told police he was waiting at the bus stop when a white youth, brandishing a hammer, attacked the Negro for no apparent reason.

Police later seized Joseph Schwartz, 17, who they said admitted he clubbed Palmer.

State's Atty. Benjamin Admowski said he will seek the death penalty for all those indicted for murder in the slaying.

Youngstown Chalks Its 44th Bombing

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—A dynamite bomb caused about $20,000 damage early today to a house under construction for racketeer Joseph (Sandy) Naples, police say.

Nobody was hurt by the blast which blew out a front wall of the house in a fashionable neighborhood. The dynamite had been placed in the bathroom.

Police arrested Naples for questioning and held him without charge. It was the 44th bombing in Youngstown in two years.

Teamster Chief Given 24 Hours To Deliver Data

Beck's Finances Due For Look-See Before Senate Investigators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate racketeers probes indicated today they have fixed a 24-hour deadline for Dave Beck, Teamsters Union president, to comply with a demand for his 1949-55 personal financial records.

With the hearings in recess until Tuesday, committee sources said they intend to subpoena Beck's records unless the Teamster chief quickly gives them to the committee voluntarily. A similar request for Beck's records went out nearly a month ago.

There have been allegations that union funds were used to pay some of Beck's personal expenses. In Seattle, Beck said Friday he hadn't received the committee's new request yet, adding: "I am not taking a position on this until I see what the committee wants and can consult with my attorneys."

Beck said that if his lawyers want him to turn over the records "I will do so in a minute." He said "that depends on whether my attorneys believe my rights are being infringed upon."

THE SPECIAL committee was set up to probe alleged racketeering in both labor and business. So far its hearings have dealt with an alleged plot by West Coast Teamsters officials to take over rackets in Portland, Ore.

Late in Friday's hearing the committee produced several checks amounting to more than $14,000 and said the Teamsters money went to Nathan W. Shefferman, Chicago labor relations consultant to employers. The committee said he once served as a consultant for Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Record Blimp Flight Claimed Proof Of Airship's Capability

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—A Navy blimp, flying longer and farther without stop than any in history, has demonstrated the capability of these roaming sentinels to warn of enemy bombers and submarines while they are still far from American targets.

The ZPG-2 landed at the Boca Chica Naval Air Station here at dark Friday night after being aloft 11 days and 12 minutes.

Temperatures To Be Normal

Weather Bureau Gives Outlook To Mid-April

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau says its 30-day outlook for mid-March to mid-April calls for normal temperatures in the Ohio Valley. They will average above seasonal normals from the Appalachian Mountains eastward.

Below normal averages are predicted west of the Mississippi River with greatest departures in the southern Rocky Mountains.

Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over most of the nation except for the Great Plains, the far Southwest and the area east of the Appalachians where amounts not far from normal are indicated.

Today saw skies clearing and winds diminishing in most of the storm-stricken areas of the Midwest. Warmer weather appeared on the way.

Mostly fair weather prevailed from the Rockies eastward to the Atlantic coast, although there were a few spots reporting snow flurries and showers. West of the Rockies, skies were cloudy and snow flurries and showers hit scattered areas.

THE VIGOROUS storm center north of Lake Superior moved northeastward during the night and the gale-like winds which lashed many Midwest areas Thursday and Friday subsided. Winds up to 65 m.p.h. had been reported in some areas.

Earlier, blizzards hit Minnesota and sections of Iowa and the Dakotas. Snowfalls ranged up to more than a foot in many Minnesota cities, with 10-foot drifts reported in some areas. Several communities were snowbound and some 20 schools were closed.

Generally colder weather was reported east of the Mississippi River. Lowest temperatures were in the storm belt but the chilly air extended into the lower Great Lakes region and the Ohio Valley.

Police Statement Studied In Trial

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Louis J. Schneider says he will rule Monday on a defense motion to bar a statement made to police after the arrest of Denver Powell, 46, for first-degree murder.

Economy Waves Surging Higher

GOP Committee Chairman Joins Critics Of Eisenhower Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—An economy-in-government wave surged higher in Congress today with fresh attacks on President Eisenhower's $71.8 billion budget.

Rep. Simpson of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, joined the budget critics with a statement Friday night that "right now the American people are stunned over the size of future spending."

"Congress might as well face the fact that there is more animosity today over the size of the federal budget than in any peacetime year in recent history," Simpson said.

Simpson said the people are looking to Congress, rather than to Eisenhower, to cut expenditures. Eisenhower has said he is willing to reexamine his budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1. But he has insisted that Congress will have to whittle down or abandon some programs it authorized if any substantial reductions are to be made.

Mercy Move By Governor Comes 2 Minutes Too Late

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Two minutes too late Gov. Goodwin Knight tried to grant Burton W. Abbott a stay of execution Friday. Instead the kidnap-slayer of 14-year-old Stephanie Bryant died in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber.

The timing raised the question whether a convicted criminal could be saved from the gas chamber after the first lethal pellet of potassium cyanide drops.

The answer is no. You might as well try to stop the bullets from a rifle in a firing squad after the trigger is pulled.

Time raced against Abbott Friday while his attorney, George T. Davis, sought any avenue of postponement of the death of the slender, 29-year-old former accounting student.

Denied a writ of habeas corpus by the U. S. Court of Appeals, Davis won a one hour stay by presenting a petition to the State Supreme Court. An official denial was recorded at 10:42 a. m.

Brewster testified that he didn't know who the money was paid. However, he said Beck used to pay Shefferman to make speeches to Teamsters Union groups as "a labor-management authority."

Also in recess for the weekend was a federal grand jury probing bribery charges against Teamsters Union Vice President James R. Hoffa. He is free on $25,000 bond on charges he paid a New York attorney to get hired by the Senate committee and then to feed him committee secrets.

Brewster flatly denied that he or other Teamsters officials connived to bribe public officials or to take over gambling, prostitution and other forms of vice in Portland.

Brewster acknowledged he used Teamsters Union funds to pay travel expenses for his horse trainer and jockey. He said he was going to have an audit made to see how much he actually did owe the union, with the idea of paying it back.

'Heart Pump' Is Developed At Ohio State

COLUMBUS — A "heart pump" which halts heart action for as long as 45 minutes has been developed at Ohio State University's health center.

Ten years ago, such stoppage of the heart would have caused death and was considered impossible. Today, the "heart pump" is enabling surgeons at University and Children's hospitals here to halt heart action during surgery.

It pumps for the heart and breathes for the lungs.

The machine had its inception in 1950 with basic construction completed in the departments of cardiology and physiology.

The pump detours blood around the heart and lungs. Surgeons then are able to temporarily paralyze the heart muscle, open the organ and correct defects.

Blood normally entering the heart is diverted into the machine through two plastic tubes inserted in large veins.

The heart's pumping action is simulated by a series of steel fingers, compressing and releasing a rubber tube in a sort of milking action.

The blood takes on oxygen and emits carbon dioxide, similar to the process that occurs in the lungs. The blood is returned to the patient's body via a plastic tube in a branch of the aorta, the major artery leading from the heart.

The condemned man was strapped into the death chair at 11:15 a. m. The lethal pellets were dropped into a container of sulfuric acid at 11:18.

Two minutes later Warden Teets answered a call from the governor's clemency secretary, Joseph Babich. Teets told him: "Too late."

He explained later that once a pellet is dropped it takes more than an hour to clear the chamber of gas. And physicians say the hydrocyanic gas attacks the brain instantly.

Abbott's conviction was based on circumstantial evidence. Stephanie, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Bryan of Berkeley, Calif., vanished April 28, 1955. No one saw her abducted. No one except her assailant saw her killed.

On July 15 her purse was found by Abbott's wife in the basement of the Abbott home in nearby Alameda. The girl's decomposed body was found in a shallow hillside grave near his Trinity County cabin five days later.

Abbott proclaimed his innocence to the end.

Concern Grows In Israel On Troop Setup

the UNEF troops would be limited to patrolling the demarcation line with Israel.

When Israel announced its final decision to pull out of Gaza and the Gulf of Aqaba, Mrs. Meir said it was on the assumption that UNEF would take over both civil and military responsibilities in the two areas.

But Maj. Gen. Mohammed Hassan Abdel Latif, new Egyptian governor in Gaza, reported he had assumed full authority over the Gaza Strip and implied that UNEF would operate only along the armistice line.

UNEF forces in the Strip total about 2,600 men. Latif brought in 50 military policemen, 10 officers and 12 civilian officials.

IN TEL AVIV, a spokesman for the Israeli foreign office said that although Latif's staff was called a civilian administration "they are all military men."

The spokesman said that when Israel withdrew from Egypt, there were "certain assumptions and expectations in common with the United States. We want to find out whether they are valid." He added that the United States had "assumed a very grave responsibility in this case."

Early Morning Blaze Damages York St. Home

The residence of Mrs. Laura McKittrick, 142 York St., was badly damaged by fire and smoke about 5:30 a. m. today.

City firemen fought the early morning blaze for more than an hour before it was brought under control.

Total loss has not yet been estimated, but Fire Chief Talmer Wise said it will be "considerable" since most of the contents of the house were lost.

The exact cause of the fire is undetermined. It is believed to have started around a gas stove.

Firemen say the blaze was well underway before they were called, because Mrs. McKittrick had trouble arousing neighbors to call in the alarm.

Galveston Dog Feud Darkens As Mongrel Pup Disappears

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Blackie, the mongrel that caused a one-hour gun battle and a complete overhaul in the dog catching system of this city, is missing from the pound and may be dead.

City Street Commissioner Tom Juneman also said that an all-out campaign to rid the city of stray dogs had been called off Friday to prevent injury to dog catchers and citizens. He said five temporary dog catchers had been fired.

The gun fight took place Wednesday when dog catchers Otis O'Callahan and Irving Brown tried to catch Blackie, owned by two 14-year-old boys, Robert Garcia and Charles Layman.

The dog catchers fired at the dog to scare it, they said. The boys said the dog catchers tried to kill Blackie.

The boys grabbed the dog, ran home and got a .22 caliber rifle, and fled to a brushy area near their homes. They held off the dog catchers and a dozen police for an hour before they gave up. Several shots were fired by the boys at the dog catchers. Police only fired in the air. No one was hurt.

The dog was taken to the pound and when the story came out in newspapers Thursday, irate citizens rallied to the boys' behalf. The dog was to be kept at the pound.

Educator Cites 'Age Of Explosion'

COLUMBUS (AP)—President Kevin McCann of Deafness College told the 495 graduates at Ohio State University's winter commencement Friday that this is an "age of explosion."

"In the technological race of this era, you are the principal guarantee that this republic will not be the loser," McCann said.

Bachelor's degrees at the exercises were awarded to 346 students. Forty-two received doctorates and 107 master's degrees.

McCann said bombs and birth rates are only "the byproducts of the real explosions that make this an age of explosion." More significant, he said, are those of "intellect, of nationalism and of individualism."

Mix Up The Numbers And The Combination Won't Work

A COMBINATION to a safe must be worked in its proper order. Get the numbers out of order and the combination is useless. The proper order is an absolute and unquestioned essential in opening such a safe.

That is precisely true of God's way of religion. It is proper and right to seek some of the things of this life — health, happiness and friends. But God demands that we "seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness" (Matt. 6:33). It is a mortal error to put other things before the kingdom.

"Thou shalt have no other gods before me." It is a plain declaration that the proper order of things must be observed. God is always first. To place him secondary is to destroy all chance of reaching the treasures of heaven.

It is unfortunate that denominationalism has mixed up the divine order so that it has bewildered and defeated thousands of sincere seekers for glory.

For instance, churches today commonly teach that a man makes his confession after he is saved, and upon such an acknowledgment is permitted to join the church. But the Bible order is exactly the opposite: "With the mouth confession is made unto salvation" (Rom. 10:10). It is a plain reversal of the order.

It is taught today that a man is saved before he is baptized, but the Bible declares that the order is: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" (Mk. 16:16). Instead of salvation being the condition of baptism as men teach today, the Bible makes baptism a condition of salvation. The order is plain, but men mix it up.

Another reversal of the divine order is in teaching that one cannot fall from grace. Paul warns, "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall" (1 Cor. 10:12). He further warns: "Let us fear therefore, lest haply, a promise being left of entering into his rest, any one of you should seem to have come short of it" (Heb. 4:1).

The Bible order is the only combination that will open heaven's door.

Banker Gnaws Way To Freedom

NEW YORK (AP) — A Staten Island bank manager gnawed his way to freedom after being handcuffed to a sapling Friday.

Augustus M. Pynn, 47, manager of the Mariners Harbor branch of the Richmond County National Bank, was accosted Thursday night on a Staten Island street.

After driving around with three men, Pynn said, he was taken to a wooded area and handcuffed to the bottom of a sapling about an inch thick. All the while, Pynn said, the men quizzed him about the bank, the safe combination and the burglar alarm system.

The men left and Pynn gnawed for three hours, finally weakening the sapling enough to snap it.

No attempt was made to enter the bank.

Lenten Sermon To Be Continued At Presbyterian

Continuing the series of Lenten sermons on the theme, "Respond To Truth", the Rev. Donald Mitchell will present the sermon entitled, "Beginning and End Of Truth," during the 10:30 worship hour Sunday morning at the Presbyterian Church.

Those of us who know our own hearts best, are aware of our human tendency to make little concessions to truth. Little do we realize that anything short of truth is the end of truth for us.

Thus do we change and grow away from truth; but eternal truth which is of God does not change. As is the perfect circle, without beginning or ending, so is truth with God.

We can grow away from His Truth and perish in our sins; or we may grow into truth as we grow in the likeness of Christ, and become great souls, demanding truth only of ourselves, for God looketh upon the heart of man.

Scripture basis for this message will be found in Isaiah 51 and Revelation 21.

Appropriate to the day, the Men's Chorus will sing, "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked." The choir will be directed by Mrs. Clark Will.

Mrs. Theodore L. Huston, presiding at the console of the organ will play "Meditation," the Grieg "Cradle Song;" and Verdi's "Grand Finale." Hymns chosen include, "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling," "Our God Our Help." The Catechism Class will meet in the session room at 1 p. m. in order to finish in time to attend the Youth Rally.

Westminster Fellowship members attending Spring Rally at Overbrook Presbyterian Church will leave here at 2 p. m. The Rally is 3:30 to 8 p. m. "Churchmanship" is the theme.

Overbrook is located at 4134 N. High St., Columbus. The Rev. Dr. Clifford Barbour, president of Western Theological Presbyterian Seminary, Pittsburgh, will be guest speaker. Seventeen members from Circleville plan to attend.

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Blackie, the mongrel that caused a one-hour gun battle and a complete overhaul in the dog catching system of this city, is missing from the pound and may be dead.

City Street Commissioner Tom Juneman also said that an all-out campaign to rid the city of stray dogs had been called off Friday to prevent injury to dog catchers and citizens. He said five temporary dog catchers had been fired.

The gun fight took place Wednesday when dog catchers Otis O'Callahan and Irving Brown tried to catch Blackie, owned by two 14-year-old boys, Robert Garcia and Charles Layman.

The dog catchers fired at the dog to scare it, they said. The boys said the dog catchers tried to kill Blackie.

The boys grabbed the dog, ran home and got a .22 caliber rifle, and fled to a brushy area near their homes. They held off the dog catchers and a dozen police for an hour before they gave up. Several shots were fired by the boys at the dog catchers. Police only fired in the air. No one was hurt.

The dog was taken to the pound and when the story came out in newspapers Thursday, irate citizens rallied to the boys' behalf. The dog was to be kept at the pound for 14 days for observation to see if it had rabies. Citizens sent the boys the $17 needed to pay room and board and buy a license for Blackie.

The mother of one of the boys went to the dog pound Friday morning to see Blackie and was shown a dog she says was not Blackie. The dog catchers said that the dog shown the woman was Blackie and that it the only dog they have in either of their two pounds that could possibly be the boys' dog.

Juneman said that Blackie is either walking the streets of the city or was shot to death.

Banker Gnaws Way To Freedom

NEW YORK (AP)—A Staten Island bank manager gnawed his way to freedom after being handcuffed to a sapling Friday.

Augustus M. Pynn, 47, manager of the Mariners Harbor branch of the Richmond County National Bank, was accosted Thursday night on a Staten Island street.

After driving around with three men, Pynn said, he was taken to a weeded area and handcuffed to the bottom of a sapling about an inch thick. All the while, Pynn said, the men quizzed him about the bank, the safe combination and the burglar alarm system.

The men left and Pynn gnawed for three hours, finally weakening the sapling enough to snap it.

No attempt was made to enter the bank.

Mix Up The Numbers And The Combination Won't Work

A COMBINATION to a safe must be worked in its proper order. Get the numbers out of order and the combination is useless. The proper order is an absolute and unquestioned essential in opening such a safe.

That is precisely true of God's way of religion. It is proper and right to seek some of the things of this life — health, happiness and friends. But God demands that we "seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness" (Matt. 6:33). It is a mortal error to put other things before the kingdom.

"Thou shalt have no other gods before me," is a plain declaration that the proper order of things must be observed. God is always first. To place him secondary is to destroy all chance of reaching the treasurers of heaven.

It is unfortunate that denominationalism has mixed up the divine order so that it has bewildered and defeated thousands of sincere seekers for glory.

For instance, churches today commonly teach that a man makes his confession after he is saved, and upon such an acknowledgment is permitted to join the church. But the Bible order is exactly the opposite: "With the mouth confession is made unto salvation" (Rom. 10:10). It is a plain reversal of the order.

It is taught today that a man is saved before he is baptized, but the Bible declares that the order is: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" (Mk. 16:16). Instead of salvation being the condition of baptism as men teach today, the Bible makes baptism a condition of salvation. The order is plain, but men mix it up.

Another reversal of the divine order is in teaching that one cannot fall from grace. Paul warns, "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall" (1 Cor. 10:12). He further warns: "Let us fear therefore, lest haply, a promise being left of entering into his rest, any one of you should seem to have come short of it" (Heb. 4:1).

The Bible order is the only combination that will open heaven's door.

Lenten Sermon To Be Continued At Presbyterian

Continuing the series of Lenten sermons on the theme, "Respond To Truth", the Rev. Donald Mitchell will present the sermon entitled, "Beginning and End Of Truth," during the 10:30 worship hour Sunday morning at the Presbyterian Church.

Those of us who know our own hearts best, are aware of our human tendency to make little concessions to truth. Little do we realize that anything short of truth is the end of truth for us.

Thus do we change and grow away from truth; but eternal truth which is of God does not change. As is the perfect circle, without beginning or ending, so is truth with God.

We can grow away from His Truth and perish in our sins; or we may grow into truth as we grow in the likeness of Christ, and become great souls, demanding truth only of ourselves, for God looketh upon the heart of man.

Scripture basis for this message will be found in Isaiah 51 and Revelation 21.

Appropriate to the day, the Men's Chorus will sing, "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked." The choir will be directed by Mrs. Clark Will.

Mrs. Theodore L. Huston, presiding at the console of the organ will play "Meditation," the Grieg "Cradle Song," and Verdi's "Grand Finale." Hymns chosen include, "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling," "Our God Our Help."

The Catechism Class will meet in the session room at 1 p. m. in order to finish in time to attend the Youth Rally.

Westminster Fellowship members attending Spring Rally at Overbrook Presbyterian Church will leave here at 2 p. m. The Rally is 3:30 to 8 p. m. "Churchmanship" is the theme.

Overbrook is located at 4134 N. High St., Columbus. The Rev. Dr. Clifford Barbour, president of Western Theological Presbyterian Seminary, Pittsburgh, will be guest speaker. Seventeen members from Circleville plan to attend.

Principle Of Faith Theme Listed At Church Of Christ

"The Principle of Faith" is given as the Sunday sermon theme for the Church of Christ, meeting at 132 Griner Avenue. This is to be the first in a series on the Great Bible theme of "Faith."

In commenting on the lesson Charles Cochran says: "Faith is the great underlying principle of all acceptance with God."

The writer of the Hebrew letter says: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." (Heb. 11:1). He further says, "But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him" (11:6).

Faith is believing something as a result of testimony or evidence. If the testimony is false then the corresponding faith will be false.

If the testimony is true then what one believes as a result of this evidence will be true. The only surety that we can have that our faith is of the right kind is to know that it is based on the testimony of the revealed and verified word of God.

The Bible is the Book of Faith because it is the book of testimony to produce faith. John said, "And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book: But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name" (John 20:30-31).

Paul said, "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17).

The devil knows that God's word is the basis of faith, for that reason he labors to steal it from the heart (Luke 8:12). He would try to get people to put their faith in such unsupported and unreliable testimonies as dreams, visions, feelings and human opinions.

These things have no testimony or evidence from God behind them. Our faith must stand in the "power" and "wisdom of God" (1 Cor. 2:1-5).

rection of Mrs. James Hodges, will sing for their anthem in the 8:30 service, "Lord of All Being". The Adult Choir, under the direction of Mr. Charles Kirkpatrick, will sing "Soft Were Your Hands, Dear Jesus".

Sunday School, under the direction of Richard Plum, superintendent, will meet at 9:30. Classes are provided for all ages, beginning with the nursery and continuing through the older adults.

The Youth Fellowship will meet Sunday at 5:30 p. m. The Intermediate Youth Fellowship is planning a "Bake Sale" to be held at Kochheiser's Hardware Store on Saturday, March 23.

The regular Wednesday evening Lenten Service will be held at 7:30, with special music being provided by the Junior Choir under the direction of Mrs. James Hodges.

THE REV. H. G. Little of Columbus, above, will conduct special services at the Circleville Church of the Nazarene during a one-week period beginning Sunday. Sunday morning services begin at 10:30, evening services at 7:30. The Rev. Mr. Little served as secretary of the Central Ohio District advisory board prior to 1952, when he entered the field of evangelism.

'You At Your Best' Is Sunday Sermon At Trinity Lutheran

The program is made up of sacred classics from the sixteenth century to the present time, as well as Negro spirituals and hymns. This is one of the series of concerts in which they will appear in various churches and schools, and on radio and television in several states.

St. Philip's Plans Lenten Program

St. Philip's Church will begin its annual Lenten study group Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the parish house when the rector will conduct the first in four sessions of a Worship In Prayer.

Materials to be used for the study group are from the National Council of the Episcopal Church and are compiled with the theme, "Growth in Prayer." The sessions each week will consist of study, discussion and lectures by the rector.

The Lenten Study is being sponsored by the Parish Council under the direction of Robert L. Brehmer, Jr., with the assistance of Mrs. Leora Sayre, Mrs. William Speakman, and Mrs. Lewis Cooper who are serving as recruiters. Every member of the parish is eligible to attend. Those who would like more information are urged to call the parish office.

Our verdict had been given. With a word of commendation the Judge discharged us, the ladies and gentlemen of the jury. The completed duty brought little relief. Instead there was a burden, a spiritual weight. Days of testimony and hours of deliberation had given an oppressive sense of the world's sin and suffering.

The door of my church was open and I slipped inside. I was alone as the rays of the setting sun enhanced the rich colors of the windows. All was quiet. I dropped to my knees.

Gradually in the solemn beauty of that sacred place I found peace. Here was sanctuary for me and for all who would come in faith believing.

Thankfully I arose; my heart and mind felt calm and refreshed. I could go home now, but I would return often. In glad fellowship with God's people I would worship the Christ who died that men might be forgiven.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Principle Of Faith Theme Listed At Church Of Christ

"The Principle of Faith" is given as the Sunday sermon theme for the Church of Christ, meeting at 132 Griner Avenue. This is to be the first in a series on the Great Bible theme of "Faith."

In commenting on the lesson Charles Cochran says: "Faith is the great underlying principle of all acceptance with God."

The writer of the Hebrew letter says: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." (Heb. 11:1). He further says, "But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him" (11:6).

Faith is believing something as a result of testimony or evidence. If the testimony is false then the corresponding faith will be false.

If the testimony is true then what one believes as a result of this evidence will be true. The only surety that we can have that our faith is of the right kind is to know that it is based on the testimony of the revealed and verified word of God.

The Bible is the Book of Faith because it is the book of testimony to produce faith. John said, "And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book; But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name" (John 20:30-31).

Paul said, "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17).

The devil knows that God's word is the basis of faith, for that reason he labors to steal it from the heart (Luke 8:12). He would try to get people to put their faith in such unsupported and unreliable testimonies as dreams, visions, feelings and human opinions. These things have no testimony or evidence from God behind them. Our faith must stand in the "power" and "wisdom of God" (1 Cor. 2:1-5).

rection of Mrs. James Hodges, will sing for their anthem in the 8:30 service, "Lord of All Being". The Adult Choir, under the direction of Mr. Charles Kirkpatrick, will sing "Soft Were Your Hands, Dear Jesus".

Sunday School, under the direction of Richard Plum, superintendent, will meet at 9:30. Classes are provided for all ages, beginning with the nursery and continuing through the older adults.

The Youth Fellowship will meet Sunday at 5:30 p. m. The Intermediate Youth Fellowship is planning a "Bake Sale" to be held at Kochheiser's Hardware Store on Saturday, March 23.

The regular Wednesday evening Lenten Service will be held at 7:30, with special music being provided by the Junior Choir under the direction of Mrs. James Hodges.

THE REV. H. G. Little of Columbus, above, will conduct special services at the Circleville Church of the Nazarene during a one-week period beginning Sunday. Sunday morning services begin at 10:30, evening services at 7:30. The Rev. Mr. Little served as secretary of the Central Ohio District advisory board prior to 1952, when he entered the field of evangelism.

Sunday School will follow the early service, at 9:30 a. m. During the 10:45 a. m. service, infant baptism will be held. The following babies will be baptized: Robert Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Steinhauer; Nancy Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Spring; Dennis Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Crist; Laura Dell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koch; and Laura, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger May.

Many of these students are preparing for full-time Christian service. There will be no admission charge, but a free will offering will be received to help defray their expenses in travel. The public is invited to attend.

The congregation is meeting in the Masonic Building until their new church building is erected. The Rev. Paul J. White is the pastor.

St. Philip's Plans Lenten Program

St. Philip's Church will begin its annual Lenten study group Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the parish house when the rector will conduct the first in four sessions of a Worship in Prayer.

Materials to be used for the study group are from the National Council of the Episcopal Church and are compiled with the theme, "Growth in Prayer." The sessions each week will consist of study, discussion and lectures by the rector.

The Lenten Study is being sponsored by the Parish Council under the direction of Robert L. Brehmer, Jr., with the assistance of Mrs. Leora Sayre, Mrs. William Speakman, and Mrs. Lewis Cooper who are serving as recruiters. Every member of the parish is eligible to attend. Those who would like more information are urged to call the parish office.

Our verdict had been given. With a word of commendation the judge discharged us, the ladies and gentlemen of the jury. The completed duty brought little relief. Instead there was a burden, a spiritual weight. Days of testimony and hours of deliberation had given an oppressive sense of the world's sin and suffering.

The door of my church was open and I slipped inside. I was alone as the rays of the setting sun enhanced the rich colors of the windows. All was quiet. I dropped to my knees.

Gradually in the solemn beauty of that sacred place I found peace. Here was sanctuary for me and for all who would come in faith believing.

Thankfully I arose; my heart and mind felt calm and refreshed. I could go home now, but I would return often. In glad fellowship with God's people I would worship the Christ who died that men might be forgiven.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

Passing Along With The Years

Arrays of figures, in general reflecting deposit declines, are used by the Post Office Department, the Treasury and the Controller General as arguments for abolishment of the postal savings system. Administration officials say the system is no longer needed to meet the people's needs.

More interesting than statistics are the reasons which have prompted millions to turn to other forms of investment.

The postal savings system was established in 1913, largely as a result of the financial panic of 1907, which produced distrust of banks. Federal guarantee of bank deposits has eliminated that distrust. And for those who still prefer direct government obligations there are the E. Series savings bonds.

Another reason for setting up the system was that many small town residents and farmers had no convenient banking facilities. The crossroads general store, where postal savings certificates could be purchased in denominations as low as $1, offered a needed service. Good roads to town have changed all that.

Changing customs now leave the Post Office Department with the prospect of operating the service at a loss. For that reason, if no other, the time probably is at hand to legislate the system — a facility that for two generations was the fiscal reliance of millions—out of existence.

Increased Crime

Easy money, the dole in its various manifestations—these are two of the elements that have combined to create the greatest crime wave in the history of this nation. People are being murdered today with an abandon that was never present in any former wave of violent crime.

But the public need not be shocked. It has accepted the growing crime wave as something that was to have been expected. When called for jury service today, most persons try frantically to be excused. Those who serve on murder juries frequently seem to be swayed by sympathy for the killer instead of for the victim.

Perhaps it is time to call the cops off their parking-ticket beats and put them back to work nabbing murders, rapists and stickup men. That, after all, was the original function of police forces.

Double Glance At Foreign Aid

By George Sokolsky

Hans Christian Sonne, Chairman of the National Planning Association which has made a study of the foreign aid, has reported to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that:

"If your committee's review of the foreign aid program leads to the conclusion that it is useful for attaining our international objective, I believe the program should be continued at the present or an expanded rate, irrespective of the relatively minor effects on the domestic economy."

Two questions arise out of this paragraph:

1. Has our foreign aid program been useful? What has it done for the United States? Precisely what political and economic benefits have accrued to the United States from it?

2. Is our present inflationary condition to be regarded as a "relatively minor effect on the domestic economy"? More paper money is being circulated now than during the period 1933-1952. The ratio of our gold stock to our non-gold money is the lowest of yearly ratios since 1932. Is this to be considered a "relatively minor effect on the domestic economy"?

The argument that foreign aid is only a small part of the total economy seems to me fatuous. The fact is that government expenditures of all kinds are now so high that the people are actually suffering from excessive taxation. The Hoover Commission believes that it can cut those expenditures by $4 to $5 billion, but nothing has been done about it thus far. When foreign aid was a dumping proposition to a great extent, it could be justified in a measure as a subsidy to industry, labor and agriculture while making some friends perhaps in Europe.

Today, the problem is economy, not the expansion of expenditures.

Sonne's report says: "If the United States were to double the present size of the foreign aid program (to $8.2 billion a year) by 1965, and assuming a gross national production level by then of $565 billion (in 1955 prices), there would be little additional impact on the United States economy."

The fallacy in this paragraph is the reference to 1955 prices which has nothing to do with the question. What does matter is what kind of dollars we are using. 50 cent dollars, or 35 cent dollars, or what. Sonne apparently disregards inflation altogether and pays no attention at all to the fact that individual debt has risen in this country to a point which all economists except the Keynesians regard as unwarranted and unsafe.

These days there is much talk in money markets of the raiders who use European or Canadian money to take over American companies, particularly those engaged in war industries. The scale on which the raids are taking place is now being defined by two Senate committees, the SEC, and other government agencies, but thus far not enough data is available to establish any special reason for this activity, other than that money flows to a safe and profitable market.

Should not the investigations deal with the question of the drying up of the reservoirs of pri-

"ESKIMO KISSING THE BLARNEY STONE"

The Eskimo who posed for this Droodle was Mukluk O'Beaverskin and he isn't really kissing the Blarney Stone. What he's actually doing is smelling a large chunk of Blubber to see if it's ripe enough for chewing. Mukluk is an old friend of my colleague, Dr. Schwine, and he comes to New York once a year to march in the big Saint Patrick's Day Parade. He's carved himself a Shillelagh out of a Walrus Tusk and all week he's been singing songs like, "Did Your Mother Come From Greenland" and "When Irish Ice Is Smiling." Last year Mukluk drove his Dog Sled in the Parade but I doubt very much if he'll be allowed to do it this year. Too many Irishmen objected to him running up Fifth Avenue hollering, "Mush — Begorra!"

Grandmother, on a winter's day, milked the cows, slopped the hogs, saddled the mule, and got the children off to school; did a washing, mopped the floors, washed the windows, and did some chores; cooked a dish of home dried fruit, pressed her husband's Sunday suit, swept the parlor, made the bed, baked a dozen loaves of bread; split some firewood and lugged it in, enough to fill the kitchen bin; cleaned the lamps and put in oil, stewed some apples she thought would spoil; churned the butter, baked a cake, then exclaimed, "For goodness sake, the calves have got out of the pen!" and went out and chased them in again; gathered the eggs and locked the stable, back to the house and set the table; cooked a supper that was delicious, and afterwards washed up all the dishes; fed the cat and sprinkled the clothes, mended a basketful of hose; then opened the organ and began to play, "When You Come to the End of a Perfect Day."

2. Is our present inflationary condition to be regarded as a "relatively minor effect on the domestic economy"? More paper money is being circulated now than during the period 1933-1932. The ratio of our gold stock to our non-gold money is the lowest of yearly ratios since 1932. Is this to be considered a "relatively minor effect on the domestic economy"?

The argument that foreign aid is only a small part of the total economy seems to me fatuous. The fact is that government expenditures of all kinds are now so high that the people are actually suffering from excessive taxation. The Hoover Commission believes that it can cut those expenditures by $4 to $5 billion, but nothing has been done about it thus far. When foreign aid was a dumping proposition to a great extent, it could be justified in a measure as a subsidy to industry, labor and agriculture while making some friends perhaps in Europe.

Today, the problem is economy, not the expansion of expenditures.

Sonne's report says: "If the United States were to double the present size of the foreign aid program (to $8.2 billion a year) by 1965, and assuming a gross national production level by then of $565 billion (in 1955 prices), there would be little additional impact on the United States economy."

The fallacy in this paragraph is the reference to 1955 prices which has nothing to do with the question. What does matter is what kind of dollars we are using, 50 cent dollars, or 35 cent dollars, or what. Sonne apparently disregards inflation altogether and pays no attention at all to the fact that individual debt has risen in this country to a point which all economists except the Keynesians regard as unwarranted and unsafe.

These days there is much talk in money markets of the raiders who use European or Canadian money to take over American companies, particularly those engaged in war industries. The scale on which the raids are taking place is now being defined by two Senate committees, the SEC, and other government agencies, but thus far not enough data is available to establish any special reason for this activity, other than that money flows to a safe and profitable market.

Should not the investigations deal with the question of the drying up of the reservoirs of private capital in this country? If interest rates are lower in one country than another or if money is taxed less in one country than another, borrowers seek the most advantageous market for money.

It is possible that those who borrow in Switzerland or Venezuela or who get tax-free arrangements in Liberia or Nassau are pursuing the ordinary course of private enterprise. The peril is that the beneficial owner of the securities or the rightful owner of the anonymous money employed may be an alien enemy of the United States.

It is impossible to study the full effects upon our economy of foreign aid without analyzing this particular phenomenon, namely, to what extent is the American reservoir of capital drying up because of the increasing individual indebtedness of Americans and the enormous bite that taxes take out of the individual's earnings.

Sonne's report also states: "If the countries in need of foreign aid had to increase their own exports sufficiently to pay for all the goods and services they urgently need, they would probably have resorted to forcing or subsidizing exports, with possible disruptive influences on world trade and on competitive conditions within United States industry."

Does this mean that foreign aid must last forever so that we can keep foreign subsidized goods out of our market? Why not use a high tariff?

Heart Habits May Cause Hypertension

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WE'VE made great strides in developing drugs to treat hypertension or high blood pressure. Yet, as is the case with so many diseases, we don't know exactly what causes it.

One theory is that high blood pressure actually may be the result of the heart adopting a "bad habit." Recent research appears to indicate that there may be a great deal of truth in this theory.

Anger And Fear

We know, of course, that emotions such as anger and fear can cause the heart to beat faster. You probably can feel your own heart beating at a faster pace after a fright.

After years of study, Dr. W. Horsely Gantt, and his associates at Johns Hopkins University, have found that the heart actually can "learn" to beat continually at a quickened tempo as the result of previous experiences.

Like any other muscle, the heart can learn and it can be conditioned. Dr. Gantt believes it forms habits much more quickly than many other muscles and drops these habits with more difficulty. In other words, past emotional memories prepare the heart for an act (such as fight or flight) that is no longer required.

The Johns Hopkins investigators found evidence indicating that high blood pressure as well as alterations in the heartbeat can be obtained this way.

Moreover, Dr. James W. McCubbin of the Cleveland Clinic Research Division has found that certain nerve endings in the great artery above the heart, and in two neck arteries, can learn to accept a new high blood pressure level as normal and act to maintain it at high level.

Original Cause

Thus, the heart itself might be responsible for continuing high blood pressure even after the original cause has ceased.

Studies are currently underway to determine whether certain drugs can prevent the heart from forming bad cardiac habits. We think we are so smart, but it's just amazing what we still have to learn.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

W. D.: Should a baby, just home from the hospital, have his crib mattress raised at the head? Answer: Usually, the baby's bed should be level. However, when he has a cold, it is advantageous to lower the head of the bed in order that infected secretions can drain out of the nose and throat easily.

"ESKIMO KISSING THE BLARNEY STONE"

The Eskimo who posed for this Doodle was Mukluk O'Beaverskin and he isn't really kissing the Blarney Stone. What he's actually doing is smelling a large chunk of Blubber to see if it's ripe enough for chewing. Mukluk is an old friend of my colleague, Dr. Schwine, and he comes to New York once a year to march in the big Saint Patrick's Day Parade. He's carved himself a Shillelagh out of a Walrus Tusk and all week he's been singing songs like, "Did Your Mother Come From Greenland?" and "When Irish Ice Is Smiling." Last year Mukluk drove his Dog Sled in the Parade but I doubt very much if he'll be allowed to do it this year. Too many Irishmen objected to him running up Fifth Avenue hollering, "Mush — Begorra!"

Grandmother, on a winter's day, milked the cows, slopped the hogs, saddled the mule, and got the children off to school; did a washing, mopped the floors, washed the windows, and did some chores; cooked a dish of home dried fruit, pressed her husband's Sunday suit, swept the parlor, made the bed, baked a dozen loaves of bread; split some firewood and lugged it in, enough to fill the kitchen bin; cleaned the lamps and put in oil, stewed some apples she thought would spoil; churned the butter, baked a cake, then exclaimed, "For goodness sake, the calves have got out of the pen!" and went out and chased them in again; gathered the eggs and locked the stable, back to the house and set the table; cooked a supper that was delicious, and afterwards washed up all the dishes; fed the cat and sprinkled the clothes, mended a basketful of hose; then opened the organ and began to play, "When You Come to the End of a Perfect Day."

Vonna Bach-Dale Mowery Wed In Five Points Church

Lovely Satin Gown Worn By Bride

Miss Vonna Lee Bach and Mr. Dale W. Mowery were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony, which took place in the Five Points Methodist Church.

The rites were performed by the Rev. John Brown before an altar decorated with baskets and vases of white gladioli, snap dragons, palms and candelabras.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon R. Bach of Circleville Route 2 and Mr. Mowery of Williamsport Route 1.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a regal gown fashioned and designed by her sister, Miss Miriam Bach.

The bridal dress was made of ivory Skinner satin along Princess lines. Tiny seed pearls fashioned the V neckline and the points over the wrists. The full-length sleeves were fastened with rows of tiny satin covered buttons, and the floor-length gown was worn over a large hoop skirt. Her fingertip veil of ivory nylon tulle was caught to a tiara of tiny ivory seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of lily of the valley, polished ivy leaves, ribbon streamers tied in love knots and centered around a white orchid.

Miss Miriam Bach was maid of honor. Her ballerina-length dress of shrimp pink nylon chiffon featured a shirred bodice and a cowl neckline, fashioned to a V neckline of pale pink draped to the hem of the dress. She wore a matching headpiece and gloves, gift of the bride, and her jewelry was a pair of tiny pearl earrings.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sondra Rhoades of Columbus, Mrs. Eugene Fellenstein of near Williamsport and Mrs. Thomas Finch of near Mt. Sterling.

The bridesmaids were attired in dresses made identical to that of the maid of honor. Miss Rhoades and Mrs. Fellenstein wore powder blue and Mrs. Finch wore pale pink. They wore headpieces and gloves, gifts of the bride, to match their dresses. Their jewelry consisted of tiny pearl earrings.

The attendants carried cascade bouquets of white gardenias and lily of the valley with satin ribbons to match the color of their dresses.

Mr. Dale Smith of Williamsport Route 1 served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Henry E. Akers of Williamsport Route 1, Mr. Noah Eugene Fellenstein of Williamsport Route 2 and Mr. Thomas Finch of Mt. Sterling Route 3.

Sterling, Obetz, Circleville, Williamsport, Buckeye Lake, Ashville, Stoutsville, Washington, C. H., Chillicothe, Derby, Marietta, Five Points, Amanda, Lithopolis, Newark, Kingston, Ironton and Michigan.

Centering the bridal table was a four-tiered white wedding cake with white roses and white satin steps leading down from the miniature bride and groom and the lily of the valley, which topped the cake. Tiny mums and polished ivy leaves surrounded the cake.

Hostesses were: Mrs. John Howard Haller of Mt. Sterling, Mrs. Thomas Dorn of Circleville, Mrs. Robert See of Mt. Sterling and Miss Fonda Liston of Mt. Sterling.

Greeting the guests were the bride's mother, Mrs. Bach, attired in a navy blue crepe dress with white accessories; and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Mowery, who wore a rose colored silk dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white gardenias, white carnations and lily of the valley.

For her going away outfit the new Mrs. Mowery wore a blue knit dress with black accessories and the white orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Following a wedding trip to Cincinnati, the couple is residing at Williamsport Route 1.

ROUNDUP

Pickaway County farmers can obtain experienced advice and up-to-date literature on their farming problems at the County Extension Office located in the Post Office Building, S. Court St., Circleville. The office here is the link between district farmers and the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University.

At least half the farms in Ohio could profit from windbreaks, says F. W. Dean, Ohio State University extension forester.

Farms in western, central and northeastern parts of the state stand to benefit most from such tree plantings, Dean explains. The forester notes that in western states studies show windbreaks 10 to 35 years old reduce fuel bills substantially besides protecting livestock.

Windbreaks protecting a farmstead should be on the side of prevailing winds, Dean explains. In Ohio prevailing winds usually are from the south and west, except in the lake region, where they are from the north and northeast. Dean recommends planting trees in an L-shape at least 75 feet from buildings and driveways.

At least 3 rows of trees are needed for a windbreak. Dean prefers 4 to 6 rows, with trees spaced at least 10 feet apart in each direction. The forester suggests Norway spruce for the outside row and red, Austrian or white pine for the inside rows.

April or May is the best time to plant farm windbreaks, Dean says. Trees should be set in ground that has been plowed, cultivated and heavily mulched with straw, old hay, well-rotted manure or peat. Five or six-year-old transplants are preferable.

If protected from livestock, the trees should be 10 to 15 feet tall in 6 to 10 years, Dean says. Farmers may realize full benefits from the windbreak when the trees are about 15 years old.

Ohio livestock producers may gain some pointers on producing quality beef, hear talks on meat and beef cattle research and listen to discussions on commercial ewe flock production at Farm and Home Week.

The department of animal science has scheduled afternoon sessions in Plumb Hall on The Ohio State University campus on March 19, 20 and 21. Department members plan beef carcass cut-out demonstrations and many other program features.

The animal science program on Youth Day, March 21, will include a discussion of opportunities in the animal science field and explanations on fitting and showing hogs, beef cattle and sheep.

This year's Farm and Home Week, built around the theme "Beacon Light On The Future," will focus attention on what's ahead for Ohio farmers and homemakers. General assemblies are scheduled for the forenoon and departmental programs for the afternoons.

Corn and oats yields were boosted as much as 45 bushels per acre and alfalfa hay three tons per acre when fertilizer was teamed up with improved drainage, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in citing results on Minnesota farms compiled by University of Minnesota soils specialists.

"On the B. A. Ackerman farm in Benton county, Minn., corn yields are now averaging 80 bushels per acre, compared to only 35 bushels 12 years ago, before Ackerman began using fertilizer," says the committee.

"Ackerman is now getting 75 bushels of oats per acre, compared to 30 in the pre-fertilizer years. His fertilized alfalfa hay yields now average 4 1/2 tons per acre as against only 1 1/2 before he started his soil improvement program."

For corn, Ackerman plows down 200 pounds per acre of 10-10-10 or 12-12-12 fertilizer per acre, and then adds 160 pounds of 4-12-24 with the corn planter. Then he side-dresses with nitrogen fertilizer.

When Ackerman plows down corn stubble for grain, he adds another 200 pounds of 10-10-10 per acre, plus another 150 pounds of 4-12-24 or 5-20-20 per acre with the grass seed which he applies with a combination seeder and fertilizer spreader.

He tests his soil once in every crop rotation and adds lime when ever needed.

20th Annual NIT Starts Play Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Old home week for basketball fans begins today in Madison Square Garden with the opening of the 20th National Invitation Tournament, oldest of the post-season college competitions.

Although there's only one New York entry, Manhattan, a couple of teams are neighbors from New Jersey and the rest of the 12 are nearly all familiar because of previous Garden appearances.

The only real stranger is Memphis State, slated to oppose Utah today in the nationally televised opening game.

Today's other first round pairings send Seton Hall against Xavier of Ohio in the second game of the afternoon doubleheader. Tonight Dayton plays St. Peter's, Cincinnati meets Bonaventure.

In Monday's quarter finals, Manhattan will play the Utah-Memphis State winner and Seattle the Cincinnati-St. Bonaventure winner. Tuesday second-seeded Bradley will meet Seton Hall or Xavier and Temple will play Dayton or St. Peter's.

Big Klu's Batting Eye Still Sharp

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—With the first season game just one month away, Cincinnati's Redlegs now have, at least, the comforting knowledge that slugger Ted Kluszczyk's batting eye is still true.

He made his first exhibition game appearance, pinch hitting a line single in the Reds' 4-3 victory over Kansas City's Athletics. But when the muscular first-sacker can start regularly is still a guess. Cautious of last year's painful hip injury, he's doing his own conditioning. "Hasn't bothered me any in more than a week," he said after the game.

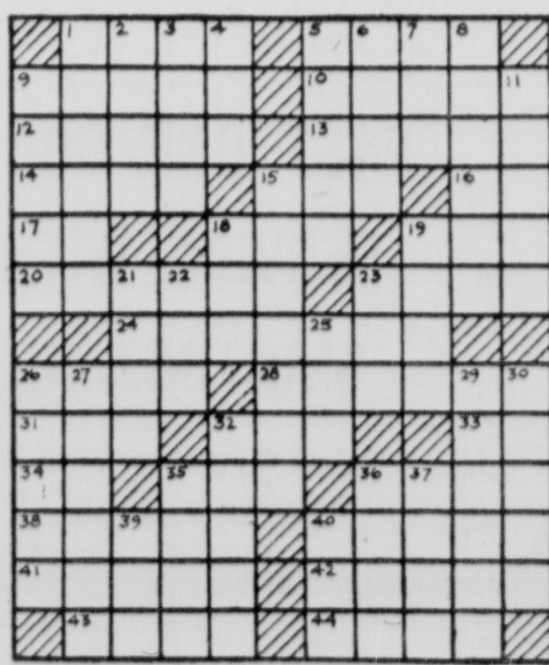

Gene Lary, Mobile pitcher and brother of Detroit's Frank Lary, was the most valuable player in the Southern Assn. in 1956. He won 19 games and lost 7.

Herb Fisher, who finished second aboard Head Play in the 1933 Kentucky Derby won by Don Meade and Brokers Tip, has a stable of horses at Gulfstream Park in Florida.

FARM ROUNDUP

Pickaway County farmers can obtain experienced advice and up-to-date literature on their farming problems at the County Extension Office located in the Post Office Building, S. Court St., Circleville. The office here is the link between district farmers and the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University.

At least half the farms in Ohio could profit from windbreaks, says F. W. Dean, Ohio State University extension forester.

Farms in western, central and northeastern parts of the state stand to benefit most from such tree plantings, Dean explains. The forester notes that in western states studies show windbreaks 10 to 35 years old reduce fuel bills substantially besides protecting livestock.

Windbreaks protecting a farmstead should be on the side of prevailing winds, Dean explains. In Ohio prevailing winds usually are from the south and west, except in the lake region, where they are from the north and northeast. Dean recommends planting trees in an L-shape at least 75 feet from buildings and driveways.

At least 3 rows of trees are needed for a windbreak, Dean prefers 4 to 6 rows, with trees spaced at least 10 feet apart in each direction. The forester suggests Norway spruce for the outside row and red, Austrian or white pine for the inside rows.

April or May is the best time to plant farm windbreaks, Dean says. Trees should be set in ground that has been plowed, cultivated and heavily mulched with straw, old hay, well-rotted manure or peat. Five or 6-year-old transplants are preferable.

If protected from livestock, the trees should be 10 to 15 feet tall in 6 to 10 years, Dean says. Farmers may realize full benefits from the windbreak when the trees are about 15 years old.

Ohio livestock producers may gain some pointers on producing quality beef, hear talks on meat and beef cattle research and listen to discussions on commercial ewe flock production at Farm and Home Week.

The department of animal science has scheduled afternoon sessions in Plumb Hall on The Ohio State University campus on March 19, 20 and 21. Department members plan beef carcass cut-out demonstrations and many other program features.

The animal science program on Youth Day, March 21, will include a discussion of opportunities in the animal science field and explanations on fitting and showing hogs, beef cattle and sheep.

This year's Farm and Home Week, built around the theme "Beacon Light On The Future," will focus attention on what's ahead for Ohio farmers and homemakers. General assemblies are scheduled for the forenoons and departmental programs for the afternoons.

Corn and oats yields were boosted as much as 45 bushels per acre and alfalfa three tons per acre when fertilizer was teamed up with improved drainage, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in citing results on Minnesota farms compiled by University of Minnesota soil specialists.

"On the B. A. Ackerman farm in Benton county, Minn., corn yields are now averaging 80 bushels per acre, compared to only 35 bushels 12 years ago, before Ackerman began using fertilizer," says the committee.

"Ackerman is now getting 75 bushels of oats per acre, compared to 30 in the pre-fertilizer years. His fertilized alfalfa hay yields now average 4 1/2 tons per acre as against only 1 1/2 before he started his soil improvement program."

For corn, Ackerman plows down 200 pounds per acre of 10-10-10 or 12-12-12 fertilizer per acre, and then adds 160 pounds of 4-12-24 with the corn planter. Then he side-dresses with nitrogen fertilizer.

When Ackerman plows down corn stubble for grain, he adds another 200 pounds of 10-10-10 per acre, plus another 150 pounds of 4-12-24 or 5-20-20 per acre with the grass seed which he applies with a combination seeder and fertilizer spreader.

He tests his soil once in every crop rotation and adds lime when ever needed.

IRISH TOPS IN WINNING INDEPENDENCE FOR U. S.

Thirty-Eight Per Cent of Colonials Who Fought Were Sons of Ould Sod

'Twas a sad day for the British when they persecuted the Irish and drove them to America.

For the Irish, more than any other national group, helped tear the Thirteen Colonies from the clutches of King George III.

Now, as the United States prepares to help the Irish celebrate St. Patrick's Day again, it might be well to pause a moment and contemplate the great contribution made by the Irish in the building of this nation.

During the course of an investigation by the British parliament into the causes of the Revolutionary War, a Loyalist remarked: "It's all the fault of the Irish. Half the Continental Army came from Ireland."

THE WITNESS exaggerated somewhat, but there was no denying the fact that about 38 per cent of George Washington's men called Ireland their native habitat.

Not only that, but when the French entered the war and came to the aid of the Colonies, many Irish hurriedly volunteered under the tricolor, yes, Lafayette and Rochambeau were here, but they brought the Irish with them also. The first officer to die in the Revolution was Brig. Gen. Richard Montgomery, who came from Ireland. In two years before the outbreak of the war (1771-1773), one Irish province alone, Ulster, sent 30,000 immigrants to the Colonies.

The Irish first settled on the site of what now is Newport News, Va., in 1621. They were largely property people, driven from their homes by Oliver Cromwell.

After 1700, however, there was a big influx of Irish of more modest means, many of them artisans, many of them Catholics and Presbyterians seeking religious freedom.

The influx was so great, especially into Massachusetts, that the general court there directed in 1720 that "certain families recently arrived from Ireland be warned off."

MANY OF these Irish moved to Maine and New Hampshire. In 1720, they founded Londonderry, N. H., but life was not easy for them. An armed group once attacked them as they attended church and their first minister always kept a loaded gun in the pulpit beside him.

The Londonderry, N. H., folk are generally credited with having introduced the Irish, or white, potato, (it actually originated in ancient Peru) into New England. Some from the same group also founded Londonderry, Vt. In all, the Irish founded a great many communities bearing Emerald Isle names, including 24 Dublins.

Many Irish emigrated to the U. S. after the potato crop famine of 1846. In one decade, from 1850-1860, a total of 914,119 arrived. Many also migrated toward the close of the Nineteenth Century, during the Irish Land war.

Great names of Irish derivation dot the pages of American history. Commodore John Barry was the fledgling American Navy's senior officer from the time of its founding in 1794 to his death in 1803.

Four native-born Irishmen and four direct descendants helped draw up the Constitution. Architect James Hoban designed the White House and seven Presidents of Irish descent lived there. They were Andrew Jackson, James K. Polk, James Buchanan, Chester A. Arthur, William McKinley, Woodrow Wilson and Harry Truman.

Five states boasted as their first governors men of Irish-descent—Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Kansas and Louisiana.

WHO DOESN'T know of the contributions of composer Victor Herbert, singer John McCormack, inventors Morse, Fulton and McCormick, and industrialists Cudahy and Mellon?

Yes, St. Patrick's Day is a great day for all America.

Penalty Urged For 2 Editors In Red Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—A Congressman today recommended revocation of the citizenship of two foreign language newspaper editors. Rep. Gordon H. Scherer (R-Ohio) made the suggestion after the editors refused to answer questions before a Subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Revocation, he said, is "the only effective way we're going to deal with these people."

Rep. Morgan Moulder (D-Mo) said the recommendation would be placed before the full committee. Scherer directed his remarks against Michael Tkach of Manhattan, editor of the Ukrainian Daily News, and Anthony Bimba of Richmond Hill, Queens, editor of a Lithuanian paper, "Sviesa."

The subcommittee is investigating dissemination of Communist propaganda in the United States by the Communist and foreign press.

Tkach and Bimba invoked the First and Fifth Amendments repeatedly under questioning by Richard Arens, committee counsel. They declined to say for whom they worked or what they did, other than their occupation was "journalist."

Scherer said some articles appearing in the foreign language press during the Korean War amounted to treason.

Arens asked Tkach whether he was ashamed of editorials in his newspaper condemning the action of U. S. forces in Korea. Tkach again invoked the Fifth Amendment. The response was the same when asked whether he ever had worked with anyone connected with the Soviet secret police.

Sun On Roof To Cool House?

COLUMBUS (AP)—The sun beating down on your roof may some day cool your entire house.

Not directly, of course, but the sun's heat may be collected as solar energy and used to operate air conditioners, says a Battelle Memorial Institute scientist.

James A. Eibling said air conditioning, residential heating and hot water heating may be the first large scale use of solar energy in most parts of the United States. But there's one drawback: No one has yet to come up with an economical way to store the energy for use at night and on cloudy days.

Bloody Trunk Mystery Solved

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—The mystery of a blood-stained trunk fished out of Mill Creek Lake last Sunday was solved Friday and turned out to be a dog-gone interesting story.

The trunk had been used as a coffin for a dog dispatched in a mercy killing, and not for a human being as police first believed.

Clean Nests

Sanitary and easy to clean are hen's nests with poultry wire bottoms. Covering wire with old newspapers keeps the nesting material from falling through the wire bottom. To clean, simply dump out the newspaper and nesting material and replace it.

IT'S the LAW

Following is another in a series of articles presented as a public service by the Pickaway County Bar Association. These articles deal only with hypothetical cases and are not intended to solve individual problems that need specific advice. Names, when used, are always fictitious.

Persons Missing Seven Years Can Be Presumed Dead.

Enoch Arden was a sailor who was shipwrecked on a desert island. When he returned home many years later, he found that his wife had married again. When he saw how happy she was with her second husband, he did not identify himself. However, he lived near her and finally died of a broken heart.

When Tennyson wrote "Enoch Arden," he used a subject which was fairly common. It still is, but most persons who have been missing identify themselves when they return. Sometimes, then, there's the piper to pay. What's the woman going to do who thought she was a widow and remarried? What is going to happen to the missing man's property?

To answer the problem, England's Parliament passed a law. When the United States became independent of England, this law became a part of our Common Law.

Its effect is that where a person leaves his home or usual place of abode and goes to parts unknown and is not heard of or known to be living for a period of seven years, the legal presumption arises that he is dead.

THIS presumption can sometimes be explained by showing the circumstances of the disappearance or other circumstances. Also, a problem sometimes arises as to the exact date of death. This is sometimes very important in deciding who inherits property.

The Legislature of Ohio has passed certain laws which help some of our problems. One, called the "Presumed Decedents Act," provides for distribution of the missing person's property.

The property goes much in the same way as if the missing person were dead. But, the persons receiving the property must usually put up a bond to pay back the missing person if he is later found to be alive.

Also, the Ohio Legislature has provided that willful absence for one year is a grounds for divorce. To protect herself, her new husband, her children, and possibly other persons, it usually would be wise for the woman to divorce the missing husband. If her husband should then be found alive, she would still be legally married to her second husband. In such a case, the Enoch Arden could identify himself without upsetting the second marriage.

If, however, the wife then wanted to return to Enoch Arden she would have to divorce the second husband and remarry the first one.

Whitehall Boy Fights Eye Cancer

COLUMBUS (AP)—A 20-month-old boy, whose left eye was removed because of cancer, now faces possible loss of his remaining eye in which cancerous growths have been discovered.

The boy is James Eckelberry, son of Mrs. Wilmer E. Eckelberry of Whitehall.

The left eye, doctors said, had been useless from birth. It was removed three weeks ago.

If the cancer in his other eye can be cured, vision may even be normal, doctors say. If the radium treatments fail, the eye will have to be removed to save the little fellow's life.

School Girl Falls Into Strange Coma

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Catherine Campbell, 14, went to sleep at her desk at Newport High School about 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning and has been in a coma most of the time since, physicians at Speers Hospital report.

Attendants said she has partially come out of the coma at times, only to fall back into it again. Specialists have been put on the case. No cause for her condition has been found, doctors said.

Local Mailers Urged To Make Early Deposits

Postmaster Charles H. Walters reminded Circleville mailers today that they can help speed mail delivery by making postal deposits early in the day.

Walters said many mailers, especially businessmen, hold their daily mail until the end of the day for late deposit. He pointed out that no time is saved by using this method because late deposits usually do not go out until the following morning.

In an effort to help local patrons gain as much as a full day in delivery, Walters outlined the following advantages made possible by early mailing.

1. Mail deposited early usually will make transportation connections the same day.
2. The workload for postoffice personnel is reduced if mail is deposited during the day. This tends to reduce chances of human error in handling mail.
3. Early deposits help prevent an overflow of mail which often

State Income From Mental Patients Told

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An audit today showed nearly 26 million dollars paid to the state since 1942 by relatives or guardians of patients in mental institutions.

The report by state Auditor James A. Rhodes covered the period between June 1, 1942 and March 31, 1956.

Figures showed that bills cancelled totaled one and one third millions and an additional 4½ millions worth of delinquent claims were certified to the attorney general for collection.

The Bureau of Support in the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction determines the rate for support of mental patients. The present maximum is $15.75 a week for each patient in a state hospital or school for the mentally deficient and $35 a week for patients in receiving hospitals.

Rhodes' report showed approximately 9,000 cases in which investigation disclosed a liability for relatives or guardians to contribute to the support of patients. The total is double the number of cases disclosed in the previous examination made in 1942.

The bureau may accept less than the maximum rate if a family's economic condition warrants or when payment is offered by a person not liable for such support.
